Rosanna Terracciano is an independent flamenco dance artist based in Calgary, who has recently returned to the city following almost a year of intensive flamenco dance training abroad. In 2008, Terracciano studied in Madrid, Spain for five months with Spanish teachers La Cintia and La Truco, with thanks to a Canada Council for the Arts grant, as well as in Montreal, Quebec for three months with Canadian dancer Myriam Allard, with thanks to an Alberta Foundation for the Arts grant. In addition to flamenco dance, Terracciano also received early contemporary dance training at the University of Calgary, and most recently with various teachers through the Regroupement Québécois de la Danse in Montreal. Along with her sister Graziella Terracciano, Terracciano has co-produced several flamenco dance productions in Calgary since 2005. The most recent production, My Flamenco, presented at Dancers' Studio West in November 2007, showcased Terracciano's latest solo dance works and put the spotlight on Terracciano as a solo flamenco dance artist. Terracciano has choreographed and danced in flamenco and contemporary-based solo works for the Alberta Dance Explosions Festival of Choreography since 2002, as well as E Merge at the Fluid Movement Arts Festival produced by Springboard Dance.
